"Atomic Brass played at our wedding in June 2023. Throughout the build up, their communication was brilliant, responding very quickly to any questions and learning a new song we had requested for our first dance.

They arrived early, were very approachable, efficient in their set up outside and provided some brilliant music which our guests loved. They played a wide range of songs to keep all different age groups happy and were a very memorable and special part of our big day."

"Atomic Brass! Where do I start!

We hired the band for our wedding day in June 2023 and it was nothing short of absolutely fantastic - they got everyone up and dancing from the start.

I've since had guests contacting me afterwards asking for their details because they added something different and extra special to the day, would definitely recommend!

FAQS

Q: Can we request a smaller lineup?

A: Unfortunately not, when you book us we need all members to ensure you get the full brass sound you love.

Q: How much space do you need and time to setup?

A: We only require a small space in order to set up our drums and we always endeavour to arrive an hour before to ensure we are good to go when you need us.

Q: Where is the singer?

A: One of our unique selling points is that we don't need a singer (the crowd does that for us). However, we do often sing and shout along with you guys when the moment is right. Check out our Instagram for more content of us mixing and mingling with the crowd.
